

HIGH TEMP PLUS OIL RANGE

A Range of Premium High Temp Chain Oils

The High Temp Plus range are specially developed top tier synthetic chain oils with extremely good thermal stability even when operating at chain temperatures of 180°C to 300°C. Ovens temperatures can be higher.

The High Temp Plus range are premium specialist chain oils of varying viscosity grades in order to give supreme performance for specific applications. Using only top-tier base oils and additives gives superior lubricating properties, temperature resistance and extends lubrication & service intervals.

The High Temp Plus range are stable synthetic chain oils designed for operating at high temperatures, contains antioxidants, extreme pressure & anti-wear additives, and corrosion inhibitors for improved performance. These oils are free from solid additives.

APPLICATIONS

High Temp Plus are specifically designed for chains operating at elevated temperatures and typical applications include; overhead conveyor systems, stenter frames for textiles, food processing, plastic film stretching, fibre board manufacturing, ceramic industry and many more.

FEATURES AND BENEFITS

- 100% Top-Tier Synthetic Ester Formulation
- Silicone Free – Suitable for use on Overhead Conveyors including Paint Plants
- Designed to provide superior high temperature performance, thus can be used on chains that may reach constant temperatures of 300°C.
- Clean burn – no residue, reduced cost of cleaning due to low deposit formation
- High flash point – safer operation
- Available in various grades to suit most applications.
